Cosmopolitan Theology of Hospitality: Searching for Neighbor-Love-as-Self-Love

The Fifth Jean and Patrick Henry, Jr. Seminar

Namsoon Kang

Professor of World Christianity and Religions, Brite Divinity School

The overall theme of theology can be twofold: the search for meaning and the responsibility to the others. Jesus' radical commandment to love one's neighbor-and-enemy-as-oneself is a radical call for dissolving the seemingly rigid boundaries between the triad of "I-neighbor-enemy". The idea of cosmopolitanism is to enlarge the circle of inclusion and scope of justice and is implicit in various biblical texts. This seminar will deal with the idea of cosmopolitanism and its theological implication in relation to the issue of hospitality as a way of practicing neighbor-love.

Before joining Brite in 2006, Namsoon Kang taught at Faculty of Divinity, University of Cambridge, UK, and Methodist Theological University, Korea. She has been actively involved in various international ecumenical organizations and movements, and was a plenary speaker at the WCC 9th Assembly in Porto Alegre, Brazil in 2006. She is an internationally recognized speaker and is currently the president of the World Conference of Associations of Theological Institutions.
